

Many of our graduates get into these fields quickly, including Michelle Barkley '18, who became the Saline County Emergency Manager shortly after graduation.

Emergency Management & Criminal Justice

AT KANSAS WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

The Emergency Management and Criminal Justice degrees at Kansas Wesleyan University can help you join professions that are on the rise. Our Emergency Management degree is the only four-year degree in the discipline in the state of Kansas, and both degrees are available online, on-campus or via a hybrid mix of the two. In addition, military—either active or recently retired—law enforcement and EMTs can receive online tuition at $215 per credit hour*, among the lowest rates in the state!

- ✓ Growing professions
- ✓ Available online
- ✓ Credit available for work experience
- ✓ New tuition rates for military and others

* Effective Fall 2021, must complete relevant paperwork with KWU Admissions.

Dr. Lonnie Booker, Jr.
Associate Professor of Emergency Management

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW:

- With crossover courses—courses that apply to both majors—you can get two degrees at the same time.
- Alternate credit equivalencies are available for both military and other work experience.
- You will learn from faculty with direct experience (much of it still on-going) in their fields.
- The philosophies of the course work are grounded in key organizations of the disciplines. Because of this, you will learn needed material for success in your field.
