Admissions

1. Indicate when students are formally admitted into your initial teacher certification program:

Sophomore year

If Other, please specify:

Any time after successfully completing Foundations of Education and Developmental Psychology

2. Does your initial teacher certification program conditionally admit students?

- Yes
 No

3. Provide a link to your website where additional information about admissions requirements can be found:

<http://www.kwu.edu/enrollment/catalogs.html>

4. Please provide any additional information about or exceptions to the admissions information provided above:

Students seeking admission into the program can meet the criteria of demonstrating basic skills in reading, writing and math in a variety of ways: ACT scores that meet the national average of subskills in reading, writing and math; SAT scores that meet the national average of subskills in similar areas; CAAP scores that meet the national average in reading, writing, and math; and CASE scores that meet the cut scores established by the Kansas State Department of Education. Students can use a combination of these tests. Student must have completed at least 38 credit hours and attained at least a 2.5 GPA before applying. An interview is also an important part of our admission process to the program. The Teacher Education Committee, comprised of faculty from across campus, teacher education faculty, and two education students who have been admitted to the program, interview students seeking admission into the program. Students must meet the interview cut score established by the Unit faculty as part of the criteria to be considered for admission. Students who have the appropriate cut scores in all three areas are fully admitted; students who have the appropriate cut scores in two of the three are provisionally admitted.

In addition, the university supervisor observes the student and completes a formal, formative evaluation at least three times for secondary students and at least four times for elementary students. If the candidate is a secondary education candidate, the content area department chair observes and evaluates the candidate at least once. At the end of clinical practice, the university supervisor and cooperating teacher jointly complete a summative evaluation of the candidate and fills out a disposition for the candidate.

Enrollment

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

On this page, enter the number of candidates for an initial teaching credential who are enrolled in the initial teacher preparation programs within your institution of higher education (IHE) or organization. Do not report on the total number of students enrolled in the entire IHE. Do not include individuals who currently hold a teaching credential and are seeking additional licenses or endorsements, or individuals preparing for school-based careers other than classroom teachers (e.g., administrators, guidance counselors).

The Department recognizes that in many cases, candidates voluntarily report their race/ethnicity and gender data, and that in some cases, candidates may choose not to report this information. Please report on the race/ethnicity data you have available, though the data may not be complete. It is not expected that the sum of the enrolled students reported by race/ethnicity or by gender will necessarily equal the total number of students enrolled.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the candidates enrolled in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the candidates enrolled in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the candidates enrolled in the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the enrollment data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Enrollment

For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled. ## Teachers Prepared

On this page, enter the number of program completers by the subject area in which they were prepared to teach, and by their academic majors. Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Teachers Prepared by Academic Major

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by academic major for academic year 2013-14. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Academic major" refers to the actual major(s) declared by the program completer. An individual can be counted in more than one academic major. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major, please leave that cell blank. (§205\(b\)\(1\)\(H\))

Please note that the list of majors includes several "Teacher Education" majors, as well as several noneducation majors. Please use care in entering your majors to ensure education-specific majors and non-education majors are counted correctly. For example, if an individual majored in Chemistry, that individual should be counted in the "Chemistry" academic major category rather than the "Teacher Education–Chemistry" category.

Program Completers

On this page, enter the total number of individuals who completed the program in AY 2013-14 and the two prior academic years. If you submitted an IPRC last year, the number of program completers for the two prior academic years are pre-loaded from your prior year's report.

A program completer is a person who has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program. Program completers include all those who are documented as having met such requirements. Documentation may take the form of a degree, institutional certificate, program credential, transcript or other written proof of having met the program's requirements. In applying this definition, the fact that an individual has or has not been recommended to the state for initial certification or licensure may not be used as a criterion for determining who is a program completer.

An individual cannot be classified as both enrolled and as a program completer at the same time. An enrolled individual is not a program completer. Once an individual has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program and becomes a program completer, the individual is no longer classified as enrolled.

After entering the program completers, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Annual Goals - Mathematics

Each institution of higher education (IHE) that conducts a traditional teacher preparation program (including programs that offer any ongoing professional development programs) or alternative route to state credential program, and that enrolls students receiving Federal assistance under this Act, shall set annual quantifiable goals for increasing the number of prospective teachers trained in teacher shortage areas designated by the Secretary or by the state educational agency, including mathematics, science, special education, and instruction of limited English proficient students. (§205\(a\)\(1\)\(A\)\(ii\), §206\(a\))

Information about teacher shortage areas can be found at <https://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ope/pol/tsa.html>.

Please provide the information below about your program's goals to increase the number of prospective teachers in mathematics in each of three academic years.

8. Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

Our program incorporates four successful strategies that assist us in meeting the assurances listed above. First, the Teacher Education Advisory Council provides the Teacher Education Department with information regarding specific needs of local schools and contributes to the success of candidates. Second, the Teacher Education Program has allocated funds to bring in expert teachers to address specific topics that target understanding children's needs and provide instructional and behavioral strategies that address those needs. These educational programs are in addition to the instructional strategies received in candidates' psychology, SPED and methods classes. A third successful strategy has been the evaluation of the assurances by cooperating teachers in early field experiences and clinical practice. The final strategy has been requiring candidates to specifically address ELL, SPED and other needs in their lesson plans. This has helped them to consciously plan instruction to meet the specific needs of those children. Candidates seeking special education endorsement complete the elementary or secondary requirements of Kansas Wesleyan University (KWU) and take addition courses in special education through the Associated College of Central Kansas (ACCK), a consortium of six area private colleges of which KWU is a member.

Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

Preservice teachers must satisfactorily complete a course which addresses individuals with special needs including those who have disabilities, who are gifted and talented, and who have limited English proficiency. The course addresses differentiated instruction, and students develop instructional activities which address the various needs of P-12 students. During this course, all preservice teachers must complete 20 hours of early field experience (EFE). During their EFE, they specifically observe cooperating teachers accommodating the needs of students by differentiating their instruction. Within their methods courses, preservice teachers are required to develop lesson plans with differentiation for the P-12 students addressing disabilities, gifted and talented and limited English proficiency. Finally, during clinical practice, candidates prepare and present a unit which must address accommodations for student with special needs.

While Kansas Wesleyan University (KWU) prepares special education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively through the Associated Colleges of Central Kansas (ACCK), this is not an initial license area. In Kansas SPED is not an initial license area and must be added as an endorsement to an initial license area. ACCK is a consortium of the six area member colleges: Bethany College at Lindsborg, Bethel College at North Newton, Kansas Wesleyan University at Salina, McPherson College at McPherson, Sterling College at Sterling, and Tabor College at Hillsboro. Preservice teachers at KWU pursue an endorsement in adaptive special education at the K-6, the 6-12, or K-12 levels by taking the coursework provided by ACCK. This coursework includes field experience for three of the four courses. ACCK has developed an assessment system that is aligned with its conceptual framework, Kansas Adaptive Special Education Standards, and national standards for teacher accreditation. ACCK has a fully accredited program. The assessment system includes content-based assessment (Praxis II), assessment of the candidate's ability to plan instruction, assessment of clinical experience, assessment of candidate's effect on student learn, philosophical/historical/legal foundations, assessment, and managing behavior/problem-solving/social skills. ACCK students consistently meet or exceed standards. Students unable to meet standards are not formally accepted into the ACCK Adaptive Special Education Program, which is required before clinical experience (student teaching). Cooperating teachers rank ACCK students as proficient or distinguished on final assessment conference reports. ACCK prepares special education teachers to participate as members of individualized education program (IEP) teams. Coursework assignments include observation of an IEP and IEP team meeting, IEP videos/simulations, lecture captures on IEPs, planning of an IEP based on a case study, and preparation of an IEP during student teaching (clinical experience). ACCK prepares special education teacher to work effectively with diversity, including limited English proficiency. Coursework includes diversity interviews, diversity issues in assessment, diversity reference materials, lecture captures on diversity, reading programs for limited English proficient learners, and an oral exam with diversity questions.

Contextual Information

Please use this space to provide any additional information that describes your teacher preparation program(s). You may also attach information to this report card (see below). The U.S. Department of Education is especially interested in any evaluation plans or interim or final reports that may be available.

Kansas Wesleyan University (KWU) is located in Salina, a central Kansas community with a population of about 48,000. KWU is a small university, grounded in the liberal arts tradition. The University is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools-Higher Learning Commission (NCA-HLC). In spring 2007, the University completed a successful Higher Learning Commission regional accreditation visit, with recommendations for continued accreditation for a 10-year period with no required interim follow-up visits or reports. The Teacher Education Program is accredited by the Kansas Board of Education (since 1947) and the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (since 2002). It is the philosophy of the Teacher Education Program that a liberal arts education coupled with an academic major and professional teacher training produces an effective P-12 teacher. The Conceptual Framework of the program states: "Kansas Wesleyan University prepares reflective teachers with the potential for professional leadership who demonstrate academic and professional excellence, have sound personal qualities, have a commitment to education and life-long learning, demonstrate world citizenship and are committed to faith." KWU offers 10 academic programs that lead to teacher licensure with additional endorsements available in SPED. Academic courses are recommended for candidates interested in adding a middle level endorsement through test only. The recommended academic courses are viewed as helping prepare the candidates for success in meeting the cut scores on the PRAXIS content tests. Three important groups provide oversight for the Teacher Education Program--the Unit Faculty, Teacher Education Committee and the Teacher Education Advisory Council. Each group has different representation and provides a specific function in the program. The Unit faculty is comprised of the 10 department chairs of the academic programs that lead to licensure and the two full-time Department faculty. This group oversees curriculum, assessments, and procedures in teacher education. The Teacher Education Committee is comprised of faculty from the academic programs that lead to licensure, the two full-time Department faculty, and two candidates who have been fully accepted into the teacher education program. The committee makes decisions regarding acceptance of students into the program and clinical practice. The committee also decides on probation within or dismissal from the program and hears appeals made to the Teacher Education Program. The Teacher Education Advisory Council is comprised of teachers and administrators in the field, graduates of the program, faculty, community members, and two candidates who are who are fully accepted into the teacher education program. This Council makes recommendations regarding program evaluations, follow-up surveys, early field experiences, and provides a link to the educational community in Salina and surrounding areas. A testimony to the success of KWU's teacher education program are the number of teachers employed by USD 305, Salina. These graduates are contributing to the quality of the Salina schools and their success in meeting AYP.
