* Aggregate means the maximum total Federal Direct Loans you are able to borrow (or more specifically, have as an unpaid principal amount outstanding at any one time) over the student's entire academic career. This includes federal loans borrowed at any institution during your time as a student. When this limit is reached, you cannot borrow anymore, unless you pay down your principal balance. If this limit is exceeded, you become ineligible for other forms of Federal financial aid. This means you would not be able to receive Federal Financial Aid until this is resolved.
