

The College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) of the College Board enables students who have pursued college-level studies in high school to receive college credits based on their performance on the CLEP examinations. Undergraduate students who have participated in the College-Level Examination Program may earn college credit as detailed below.

A maximum of 30 credit hours may be granted for the combination of credit for prior learning, military experience, field experience, credit by exam, advanced placement program (AP), international baccalaureate (IB), and college-level examination program (CLEP) for undergraduate students. For additional information, please visit the Alternative Credit section in the academic catalog which can be found HERE.
